The screenshot shows a 'Student Dashboard' for Christopher Smith. At the top, a yellow banner states: 'You have successfully filed your application. If you're on a public computer, please remember to log out when you are done.' Below this, a dark blue instruction box reads: 'Use this page to view applications and appointments for the student(s) on this account. If any of your applications show a button labeled "RSVP," you will still need to schedule your admissions screening for the program listed.
